

At Eka, we facilitate the creation of museums, archives and cultural assets for institutions, collectors, and businesses. We provide crucial strategy planning support to museums and heritage spaces from inception, helping them towards staying sustainable, adaptable and relevant. Our curatorial work includes researching, cataloguing and delivering exhibitions and allied outreach by placing audiences at the heart of the experience.

Eka– India’s first homegrown museum and cultural advisory.

Eka (www.ekaresources.com) was set up in 2009 to address the increasing need for professional organization within the culture and heritage sector. Project management is our forte and we have a successful track record of end-to-end delivery of world class institutions. Our professional services bring quality and excellence to the field. Our footprint now extends beyond the Indian subcontinent with projects in India, Nepal, Sri Lanka and Bhutan, besides long-term engagements in the Middle East and now in Europe.

We create tailored solutions for cultural activities and specialize in planning and heritage management for museums, archives and cultural complexes. We aid in research, documentation and publication for a wide range of cultural industries. Scenography & content for art festivals, seminars, and symposiums is an important portfolio for us. We also serve as a nodal agency for the promotion of cultural tourism in India with a focus on indigenous culture and the performing arts. The company’s specialist services include
